

Terms of use for the 5C Health Emergency Simulation Exercise Package

By using the material of the 5C Health Emergency Simulation Exercise Package (the “Material”) provided on the website of the Federal Ministry of Health you declare your consent with the following terms of use:

- The Material has been compiled and produced with the utmost care. Nevertheless, the Federal Ministry of Health gives no guarantee that the information and material provided is current, accurate, complete or error-free. The Federal Ministry of Health accepts no liability for damage or loss arising directly or indirectly from the use of the Material, provided it has not been caused intentionally or by gross negligence.
- The Federal Ministry of Health expressly reserves the right to modify, append and delete the Material in part or in whole without prior notice, or to halt publication completely or for a limited period. The Federal Ministry of Health reserves the right to have the Material deleted from websites of third parties without giving reason.
- The content of the Material is protected by copyright. The images used are marked with photo credits where required by law. The Material may only be used for non-commercial purposes in full respect of copyright.
- The Material may only be used within a period of 5 years (2017-2022).
- Quality assurance when using the Material rests with the user. The Federal Ministry of Health does not assume any responsibility in this regard.